

HUMBOLDT-UNIVERSITÄT ZU BERLIN

Internationalisation at BSR Universities:

Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

Humboldt in Germany, but worldwide

Ongoing radical change of previously unknown proportion

- Bologna and Lissabon
- Excellence Initiative in Research
- Finances
- Translating Humboldt into the 21st Century

Internationalization for us

Being an international university is no fixed point to strive for, but an ongoing process in which students, scientists, partner institutions conjoin with Humboldt to make up an internationally attractive scientific environment. Internationality suffuses the university as a whole – in all its decisions and variations.

Internationalisation is a way in which the Humboldtian idea of the unity of science and teaching may be translated into the 21st century.

Humboldt's Emphases

- Partners and Networks
- Stabilizing student exchange and ameliorating quality
- International study courses; summer/winter universities
- Regional emphases
- Reorganizing administration
- Building capabilities for international communication
- A Berlin university

Baltic Study Net?

- Baltic Sea Region as one possible point of emphasis
- Is there a context of other regions?
- Defining content

Thank you for your attention!

Dr. Ursula Hans
International Office
Unter den Linden 6
10099 Berlin
ursula.hans@uv.hu-berlin.de

